

To our Distribution Partners:

As part of their re-branding effort, Thrivent will be revising their consumer and producer materials through the end of the year. The first piece to be revised is the consumer underwriting process trifold. The process and requirements themselves have not changes, so for the short term, either the older version or the new trifold can be used as Thrivent makes these changes across their platforms.

Please share this revision with your downline. As always, please let us know what Thrivent can provide to help you better position their solution with your agents.

Thank you,

Revised version of Consumer Underwriting Brochure

Through the end of the year, Thrivent will be revising their consumer marketing pieces to align with their re-branding initiative.

The first piece to be revised is "Your Underwriting Process" (#34902). This piece will be replacing the old "What to Expect" brochure (#27881).

Note: the underwriting requirements and process have not changed, so for the short term, either version of the brochure can be used while replacements are made across various platforms:

- FormsPipe on iPipeline: In the near future, this will be replaced in the client leave behind materials in the downloadable application packets.
- Quote software and e-App on iGo: This will eventually replace the older version that is generated in the illustrations, and that is part of the client materials in the e-App.
- TFLTCStore.com: This document has already been updated on our materials hub for agents appointed with Thrivent. It is download-only at this point and is not available to order in print.

If you have version #27881 saved or hosted anywhere, please replace it with #34902, which can be downloaded below or accessed via TFLTCStore.com.
